AVERAGE YIELD..... 2.8 tons per acre
CASES PRODUCED..... 1,508

HARVEST DATE

WINEMAKER'S COMMENTS
In a world of bland, cookie-cutter Chardonnays, the 2007 Kunde Reserve stands out as a special wine. Intense aromas of fuji apples reel you in, followed by delicious lemon peel. Add a little fresh-baked bread and you will have the complete picture. Somehow the wine manages to be both full and viscous in the mouth but crisp as well. You might go retro with this wine at dinner and dig out a chicken cordon bleu recipe. Or maybe you'll try a spinach quiche with a healthy dose of gruyere. Your good food with 2007 Kunde Reserve Chardonnay pegs the meter on the "yum" factor!

Red Wine of the Month

2006 RESERVE CABERNET SAUVIGNON

APPELLATION..... Sonoma Valley
VINE AGE..... 4-9 years
AVERAGE YIELD..... 2.6 tons per acre

HARVEST DATE
October 3 through October 27 at an average Brix of 25.9°

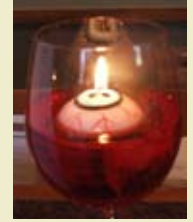

WINEMAKER'S COMMENTS
Deep and brooding strength are the descriptions that come to mind when we taste the 2006 Kunde Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon. A good helping of our delicious Petite Verdot and Malbec grapes creates complex aromatic layers: currants, graphite, toasted oak, and a touch of forest floor. You'll want to linger over those lovely aromas, but finally tasting this wine is instant gratification: boysenberry and chocolate flavors are backed by good structure for aging. Filet mignon or braised short ribs, preferably with a rich reduction sauce, sound like a stunning match for this big wine. Refined hillside fruit forms the heart of Kunde Reserve Cabernet.
